PRAISE FOR BLUFORD HIGH

“The Bluford novels have been wildly popular with young readers across the country and continue to entice reluctant readers. . . . The books are well written, treat the problems of inner-city youth with respect, and avoid easy answers to the challenges that kids face today.” –James Blasingame, Associate Professor of English Education at Arizona State University, coeditor of The ALAN Review

Here's what teens are saying about Bluford High

“As soon as I finished one book, I couldn't wait to start the next one. No books have ever made me do that before.” –Terrance W.

“Once I started reading them, I just couldn't stop, not even to go to sleep.” –Brian M.

“When I finished these books, I went back to the beginning and read them all over again. That's how much I loved them.” –Caren B.

About the Author

John Langan has taught reading and writing at Atlantic Cape Community College near Atlantic City, New Jersey, for more than twenty-five years. The author of a popular series of college textbooks on both writing and reading, John enjoys the challenge of developing materials that teach skills in an especially clear and lively way. Before teaching, he earned advanced degrees in writing at Rutgers University and in reading at Rowan University. He also spent a year writing fiction that, he says, is now at the back of a drawer waiting to be discovered and acclaimed posthumously. While in school, he supported himself by working as a truck driver, a machinist, a battery assembler, a hospital attendant, and an apple packer. John now lives with his wife, Judith Nadell, near Philadelphia. In addition to his wife and Philly sports teams, his passions include reading and turning on nonreaders to the pleasure and power of books. Through Townsend Press, his educational publishing company, he has developed the nonprofit Townsend Library, a collection of more than a hundred new and classic stories.
