Read, reflect and act...now

By Ajaz Hussain, Careers Education Manager, GSM London and Visiting Tutor (Careers), Lancaster University Management School

Having changed career three times, I was introduced to this book by an outplacement consultant. I was an IT specialist then, working with the world's largest IT services company. As Careers Education Manager now, I have enjoyed learning and applying many of the tools and techniques in the successive editions as well as passing them on to countless career changers and more recently students and graduates. This edition will offer you the comfort, assurance and much needed guidance from a trusted friend in these confusing times that you too can find, get or keep...a job you love.
