Winnie and Jerry are camping, and discover the real-live trolls Oola and Humphrey. They hear of the tale of the trolls' moonstones that were stolen many years ago, and want to help. All four set out on an adventure to find the missing moonstones. Will the four of them, plus Binky the doll, succeed? Meanwhile Dad, who doesn't know about the trolls, searches for his children in the Pine National Forest campgrounds. In this delightful book told through Winnie's experiences the reader will encounter unforgettable characters like Asa, the wise old Troll, and Merkle, the non-stop talker. There is a minimum of magic in the book, but lots of magical situations with forest creatures and magnificent waterfalls and mountains. The reader experiences each situation through Winnie's emotions and feelings, disappointments and successes.

Five Stars

By Amazon Customer

My boys really enjoyed reading this book. It is a very fun story and the illustrations are beautiful!

Great Family Adventure Story

By Patricia Comeaux

This is a very engaging story and one for all ages as excellent literature should be. The language is quite descriptive; the plot keeps the reader very involved and sometimes "on the edge of your seat." The characters are well developed and very believable (including the trolls). The illustrations are a wonderful addition to this family adventure story. I highly recommend it; I am a former librarian and a lover of excellent stories and good literature.

Good fun

By Stephen

A fun story with charming illustrations which can be read to a child or stimulate the young reader to read alone.
